SeaPak Shrimp Company
Kilgore Biography/2

During his tenure as President, Kilgore has spearheaded the highly successful launch of SeaPak's line of unbreaded value-added shrimp, championed a successful partnership with Food Network, and also spearheaded the acquisition of WorldCatch, the first all-natural line of value-added seafood products that are chemical-free, contain no additives or preservatives, and are prepared with real ingredients and restaurant-quality recipes.

As a senior leader of one of the nation's largest frozen food companies, Kilgore has more than twenty-eight years of leadership experience in the frozen food industry. He has been an active leader and member of the National Fisheries Institute, serving as its chairman in 2002. He has also served as a member of the board of directors of the National Frozen Food Association. Kilgore has held volunteer leadership positions with the American Cancer Society, Easter Seals, United Way, and the Brunswick-Golden Isles Chamber of Commerce in Brunswick, Ga. He was a past member of the Georgia State Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors and currently serves as a member of the board of directors for Glynn Community in Schools (CIS) and the Board of Directors for Security Bank.

Kilgore resides on St. Simons Island with his wife, Brenda. They have two grown daughters and one grandson. He is a 1972 graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology with a Bachelor of Science degree in Industrial Management, and is an avid golfer who enjoys reading in his spare time. Jack and Brenda are active members of the St. Simons Community Church.
